Legislative Probe Demanded.
Trenton, N. J.—A special session of the legislature to investigate the alleged orgies in the state house that marked the end with an abrupt meeting of the last session, has been demanded by the state legislature, which is to meet this evening, and is to demand in a letter to Governor Tamm. The alleged drinking and promiscuity of women in the state house are said to be a chief factor in the demand.

Too Much Government Meddling.
Brooklyn, Mass.—Improper tariff revision and dissatisfaction with the Taft administration are blamed by Governor Douglas, who has just returned from a tour of the industrial and mining and metallurgical districts of the country.

"The election of Congressmen from this republican district," said Mr. Douglas, "is a part of the unrest and dissatisfaction apparent everywhere."

"The government is getting too much with its tariff for the benefit of the people."

"The government is getting too much with its tariff for the benefit of the people, and there are other conditions that tend to the people giving them less confidence than we could wish."

"There is too much meddling. The same conditions prevail in Wall street, the pulse of the nation, where the best of men's soul stocks have fallen off several points."

City Drug Company,

HELD COTTON 38 YEARS.

Oldest Bale in the World Was Just Seen Sold.

Jackson, Ga.—The oldest bale of cotton in the world was sold here this week, being bought by Etheridge, Smith & Co. from T. H. Greer. The bale of cotton was ginned on December 13, 1872, by water power and was packed on an old hand truck, probably at that time. During the first season of 1872, cotton had been selling for 15 cents per pound, but as this bale was late being prepared for market, when it was sold it was 20 cents. So the cotton was carried to a local house, the owner declaring he would never sell for less than 16 cents. He was 23 years in having his promise fulfilled.

Only since 1872 has cotton been above 16 cents and that was during the Sulter boom when it went up to 20 cents. The last figure, Mr. Greer did not sell at that price, thinking the market would reach 20 cents. In this he was mistaken, however, and he held the cotton for 16 cents ever since. Local cotton buyers have had an eye on this cotton for some time. A famous cotton factor for it during the St. Louis exhibition, it being desired for exposition purposes, but Mr. Greer would not sell.

This week he drove to town and offered 10 cents per pound for the bale, which weighed when it was first ginned 505 pounds. After 38 years it now weighs 333 pounds. Only once has it been repacked, and that was in 1894, when the cotton was found to be perfectly sound. The old bale has been on exhibition in the window of Etheridge, Smith & Co. and is being viewed by hundred.

One Conductor Was Cured.

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes about it.—"Some time ago I was confined to my bed two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect, and the third bottle put me on my feet and resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used, and it will do you claim in cases of rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. There is more to a Fertilizer than Analyses

The mere mixing of materials to obtain analysis requires no special knowledge. The value of a fertilizer lies in the source from which the plant food is obtained.

Each ingredient in Royster goods is selected with a view of supplying the plant from sprouting until harvest. The plant is not overfed at one time and starved at another. Twenty-five years experience goes with every bag.
